HERITAGE DAYS

More than 120 ethnic, church, and civic groups are now preparing to welcome 150,000 people to Trenton for the City's 3rd Annual Heritage Days.

Heritage Days is a two day food and entertainment extravaganza sponsored by the Trenton Commons Commission and takes place on the Commons and in Mill Hill Park. The hours are Saturday, June 6 from 10 AM to 6 PM and Sunday, June 7 from Noon to 6 PM. There is NO admission charge and parking is free.

This year there will be 43 food booths compared to last year's 23. If you have always wanted to try something, now is the time. Many of the food booths will be selling food in sample sizes at a very reasonable price. This enables you to try many different dishes. Remember to make your choices wisely and save room for what you really want to try. Some foods that you can try are kugel, mulligataway stew, pansit, curry bread, curried goat, pigs feet, borscht, and black bread. Has your appetite been aroused?

There will also be 90 quality craft exhibits from all over the State and continuous entertainment in the park -- a place to rest your weary feet and stuffed stomach.

Bob Topper of Buckingham is the Hiltonia coordinator of Heritage Days. Bob will be needing your help.

Last year the Hiltonia Association manned two soda booths -- one in the park and one on the Commons for the financial benefit of the association. Many Hiltonians came out to help. The work was not hard but the fun was in abundance. Everyone who came enjoyed themselves. We even had a time trying to get people to leave. Once you arrived, you loved it.

This year the association has been given the beer concession. Again we will be given a percentage of every glass we pour. Can you give '2' hours of your time on June 6 or June 7.

Don't wait for Bob Topper to call you -- call Bob today and volunteer! Pick your hours! Benefit your association! Benefit your City!

A Letter from the President

Dear Neighbors,

Hiltonia Association is a vital civic group that incorporates a varied number of people from all walks of life. It is your organization and we must all pull together to be one.

For the members who are always the "doers" it is becoming a problem. So it is at this time that I feel it very important to ask you to look into yourselves and come up with some allotment of your precious time and lend us a hand.

If you take an average of the 194 members in the association and ask only 150 to 175 members to help us on volunteer projects then you have a total of two to three hours of help per member per year, and you have a grand total of 300-450 hours for Hiltonia. That goes a long way in reducing the burden on a few and brings us closer together as a community.

With Heritage Days just around the corner on June 6 and 7, we need lots and lots of help to man the beer taps. A few hours of your time is all we ask. Call Bob Topper at 393-0432 or Peter Aluotto at 398-3173.

Our Fourth of July Parade and Lunch needs people to handle the many details for success. Please call Denise Mortimer at 393-9705 if you can help in any way at all.

Notice please that I ask you to make the call. Don't make the persons who are in charge in a particular event have to spend hours on the telephone trying to drum up help. They have other commitments as well and really don't like to have to do so much telephoning.

I am concerned that if everybody leaves "the work" to the other guy- what then?

As I have told you before, you're a great group and I am very proud to be the President for this year. I think you're all great and I hope to see many, many more of you at our functions.

Have a wonderful summer!
Sincerely
Joan Anderson

What kind of a MEMBER are you?

Some member are like wheelbarrows, they work when you push them. Some are like balloons, if you don't keep a string on them, they'll fly away. Some are like footballs, you never know which way they'll bounce next. Most, thank goodness, are like the North Star, always there when you need them to help guide you on your course.

How about a Dispute Resolution Board?

Over the past few weeks, several people have spoken to me concerning problems with their neighbors. More often than not, the dispute results in one neighbor calling the city to make a complaint against the other. This action causes the first neighbor to respond in kind and before you know it the anxiety escalates to uncomfortable levels. I propose that a dispute Resolution Board be established composed of one elected member per block. The purpose of the Board would be to hear both sides of the issue and then try to effect a compromise which would allay any hard feelings that might otherwise occur. What do you think? Write the Hiltonia. c/o Gloriann Kyte.

JULY 4TH

As part of our celebration of July 4th, Hiltonians will hold a gala parade. Awards will be given for decoration of tricycles, bicycles, baby buggies (with babies in them), automobiles, wagon floats and also for costumes. The parade will step off at 10 AM on the Fourth from Stanley and Kensington.

"THE BIG EVENT -- JULY 4TH"

Our next big event is going to be on Saturday, July 4th (rain date July 5th). Some of you may be planning to leave us for that weekend but for those who are going to be around, we promise to start things off in a big way! Men (and others who wish) are invited to the Andersons for some 'liquid fire-crackers' early in the morning (8:30 - 9:00AM)

Then the men, children, bikes, wagons, will assemble for a big parade through Hiltonia. This will be followed by food, children's games, adult's games, etc. Stu Anderson is planning the parade and more details will follow. Glenn Palmer is working on some game plans to take place in the park if there are enough interested people. That will be between 3:00 and 6:00 PM.

If you have afternoon or evening plans, please join us for the morning activities. They should be over by 2:00 PM. We have established the ticket prices and have tried to hold the cost down so we all can enjoy.

HILTONIA CENSUS

It has now been four years since the rebirth of the Hiltonia Association. In the summer of 1978 we did a census of our neighborhood. Since that census was done we think that about 20% of our information has changed. So we are ready to begin this large task again.

Before I ask that you fill out this form, I would like to say a few things about the intended use of the information. The Hiltonia Association represents us all, therefore knowing the make-up of the neighborhood helps the officers and executive board to do a better job of representing us.

We also know that in the last few years we have had a children's population explosion. In order to better plan their activities, it would be nice to know our children's names and ages.

The third piece of information that is really the most essential of all is phone numbers. We realize that many now have unpublished numbers. We ask that you please fill in your number and check the box that indicates that your number will only be used for Hiltonia Association business.

The last thing on the form is length of Hiltonia residency. We often hear comments about people leaving Hiltonia, or about all the "new people" moving into the city. It just might be nice to know how long some of our neighbors have been here.

HILTONIA: NOT A STEREOTYPE

Almost anyone can tell you about Hiltonia. What they tell you depends, of course, on who they are and where they themselves live. For those of you who may be considering Hiltonia as a place to call home, the views and opinions of those who live here might be helpful to you.

For the record, Hiltonia is located in the City of Trenton, west of Cadwalader Park and north of the Delaware-Raritan Canal. The neighborhood consists of about 309 homes of every size and description from English Tudors and Dutch Colonials to California Contemporaries and semi-detached row houses. It is a quiet neighborhood which, apart from its attractive appearance, offers the prospective home buyer many amenities seldom found in other places.

Perhaps the single greatest amenity Hiltonia offers is the quality of the homes. Sample the listings of homes which may be available at any given time and you will find that dollar for dollar your money will buy a larger home with more of the features you want (eg. fireplaces, pools, wet bars and even tennis courts!) than can be found anywhere else. Virtually every home in Hiltonia was custom built, some over 50 years ago when lathe and plaster was the standard for walls and tongue-in-groove hardwood the standard for floors. On this point, most visitors would agree: Hiltonia has some of the finest homes in Mercer County.

Another amenity worthy of consideration is location. Hiltonia is very conveniently located, just minutes away from State offices, Trenton State College, Mercer Airport, Mercer Hospital and the Trenton Country Club. For state and local government employees especially, the commute to work is short indeed. Hiltonia is well served by the T-HILTONIA route of the Mercer Metro bus line which reliably transports New York and Philadelphia commuters to the Trenton Train Station three times every hour. This obviates the need for parking or in some cases, owning a second car.

One of the amenities most often cited by new arrivals as a reason for choosing Hiltonia is the community spirit of the residents. Don't be fooled by popular stereotypes from a bygone era. Hiltonia is a diverse community of young and old, black and white, rich and not so rich. Above all, it is a family neighborhood with children in all age groups. Simply stated, the families who live in Hiltonia, like Hiltonia and each other. The resident civic association publishes a bi-monthly newsletter, organizes special events, and welcomes all new arrivals with champagne and cheese. Won't you join us?

THE CITY EXPANDS WESTWARD

The opening of Cadwalader Park in 1901 pushed housing out to the western fringes of the city. Once it became known that Frederick Law Olmsted, the architect of New York's Central Park, had agreed to design an urban park in Trenton, developers started drawing up housing plans to trade on the new park's popularity.

In 1891, the westerly line of the city was still at Overbrook Avenue. State Street was altered and widened to 100 feet through the Cadwalader and Atterbury estates that year, and in 1900 a part of Ewing Township was annexed to the city, including both estates.

The Cadwalader estate dates back to 1776, when Lambert Cadwalader purchased the property at a sheriff's sale. His lands extended from the Delaware River to Scotch Road and from Overbrook Avenue to Dean Avenue, for a total of 248 acres.

An 80-acre portion of the estate had passed to Henry Farlee, who lived in Ellarslie, by the time Edmund C. Hill convinced the city to acquire the land for a park in 1888. Later that year, the city bought an eight-acre strip of land from the Cadwalader family, the present site of Junior 3. Three years later, an additional seven and sevenths acres adjoining the park's eastern boundary and running along the west side of Parkside Avenue from Stuyvesant Avenue to the canal feeder, was acquired. Later, the city also bought a 15-acre parcel adjoining the park, facing Stuyvesant, from the state.

GENERAL MEETING - MAY 12

The Hiltonia Association General Membership Meeting was held on Tuesday, May 12 at the home of Betty Walton. We had a good turnout and the guest speaker was Dallas Dixon who has been organizing the Guardian Angels in Trenton. The Guardian Angels are a varied and interesting group of people who will be helping to guard areas of Trenton. They are starting by guarding the Trenton Train Station on weekend evenings. They carry no arms or weapons but travel in groups of no less than eight and will help to prevent muggings, etc. They have been well received in many cities across the country and so far have been well received in Trenton.

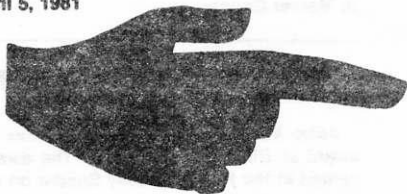

Stuyvesant Avenue, created by city ordinance of September 1, 1885, was extended past Parkside Avenue by an ordinance passed February 10, 1889. In 1885, Stuyvesant was still a country road and Hillcrest Avenue was only a lane running from the Farlee farm to the railroad station. All the rest was fields.

But with the extension of Stuyvesant, the Hillcrest area expansion began. Added impetus came from the furthering of the trolley line from State Street up Prospect and out Stuyvesant, a path still traveled by city buses.

Cadwalader Place, a 75-acre tract from Overbrook to Parkside Avenue, between the river and the feeder, was purchased by Hill in 1891, and laid out for him by Olmsted. It was the first prestige development associated with the park.

Once the park land on the Stuyvesant side was acquired, houses were built there, too. And the surrounding of the park went full circle in 1925, when Hiltonia opened with a big ad campaign touting it as "the" place to live.

A discussion on establishing a neighborhood compost pile so that neighbors could discard their leaves, grass clippings, etc. concluded with Eunice Levy agreeing to check further on this idea. By establishing this pile all our neighbors will have mulch available to them. If you have any suggestions, please get in touch with Eunice.

HILTONIA

This week the paving of Hiltonia's streets will begin

*--more evidence of the rapidity with which this
"wonderful place for a home" is being developed*

It is perhaps true that never in the entire history of Trenton has any development ever moved so rapidly towards final completion as has Hiltonia.

Dozens of beautiful homes have been erected on its graceful slopes, artistic landscaping has done its part in adding to Hiltonia's charm and now its winding streets are being paved—everything will be finished before Winter sets in.

Some of the finest homesites at Hiltonia are still available, but---don't delay

In all seriousness and in the friendliest spirit we urge you to make your decision regarding Hiltonia without delay. Although every part of Hiltonia is beautiful your personal preferences enter into the matter and you may just as well get the homesite you want. Every day, of course, will see the choice narrowed because of the sales being made.

Motor out through Cadwalader Park or come by the Stuyvesant Avenue trolleys, or if you prefer we will call for you and take you out and bring you back. Phone 5141.

A HOUSING DEVELOPMENT CORPORATION FOR TRENTON

As you may recall, about six months ago the Hiltonia Association in cooperation with other civic associations developed a proposal for funding under the city's Community Development Block Grant Program. The essence of the proposal was to acquire and rehabilitate the entire Northern blockface of Colonial Avenue for resale to eligible low or moderate income households. The proposal was submitted to the City under the aegis of the Trenton Council of Civic Associations who agreed to act as the project sponsor. Although this project was not funded per se, the concept was melded into another project which the City had been working on. This project is known as the Housing Development Corporation.

Serious efforts are now underway to organize a non-profit corporation which would accomplish the same goals as the Trenton Council of Civic Associations had in mind. This corporation would begin with City-owned, vacant abandoned housing in one of several key target areas. Since the target areas have not yet been formally selected and the details of how the corporation will work not yet determined, I am going to revive the original group that put together the TCCA proposal. If you were not part of that group but would like to volunteer your services now, please call me. We will be meeting regularly and often until this project gets off the ground and rehab becomes a reality.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Several weeks ago, Mayor Holland was quoted by the Trenton Times as having said that the Reagan Administration is a disaster for cities. By this remark, I suppose the Mayor thinks his own administration has been a blessing for Trenton. In my opinion, Ronald Reagan has accomplished more in his first four months as President than Arthur Holland has as Mayor in 17 years. True, you may not approve of what Reagan has done but, you must agree that good, bad, or indifferent, he has delivered exactly what he promised during his campaign. He promised budget cuts and we got them. He promised more for defense and we got it. He promised an end to the Soviet grain embargo and he did it. He has promised a tax cut and I've no doubt we'll get one.

By contrast, Arthur Holland is a man without a plan. Want proof? Ask him where he's going to get the money for next year's budget. Ask him why Trenton at $11.08/$100.00 assessed value is the highest in the state and what he plans to do about it. Better still, ask him what he has been doing for the past 17 years to halt the city's steady decline. It seems to me that instead of complaining about Ronald Reagan the Mayor should be taking a lesson instead.

Many more people joined you afterward in wishing our son well.

We thank you all for your loving concern; we are happy to be your neighbors.

SAFETY COMMITTEE

The following letter was published in the Trenton Times to thank the police for their attentive patrolling and to advertise the fact that Hiltonia has an ACTIVE Crime Watch.

Dear Editor:

With the March 23 issues of both Time and Newsweek featuring crime as a major problem in the United States, it is too easy to say either that 'someone should do something', or else to blame the police for not stopping the criminals.

It is nice to be able to report that someone is doing something, and also to thank the police in this one brief letter about two separate incidents.

First: The Hiltonia Crime Watch had its first success. A watchful participant saw two criminals attempting to break into a neighbor's house and called the police, thereby foiling a potential break-in. Neighbors watching out for neighbors is something everyone can do.

Second: Trenton Patrolmen Kondopka and Bunting spotted a car in an unusual location in Hiltonia and stopped to investigate. Their careful follow-up, uncovered two individuals with criminal records who were subsequently arrested after an extensive search and chase. The careful, thoughtful investigation by these patrolmen probably saved us from a trouble-some situation. Thank you!

While these two separate examples don't solve the crime problems in Trenton, they are indications that people can help control crime by being observant and contacting the police, and that police do care and are fighting crime in a professional manner.

SCRIBBLE
SCRIBBLE

Since this letter was published, a few additional incidents have occurred. The Schraggers' electronic silent alarm and fast police action resulted in the arrest of a Trenton State College student, who was apprehended trying to leave the Schragger house through an upper story window.

An attempt was made earlier in the same day to enter Denise Mortimer's home. Since the windows were properly secured, the break-in was foiled --no entry occurred although a window was broken.

A possibly more serious incident occurred at Stu and Joan Anderson's. Their garage was entered and on a later evening it was set on fire. Fortunately, the fire was put out before there was extensive damage. No leads have been established as to the guilty party so far.

Please recognize that we've had few incidents since the institution of the Hiltonia Crime Watch. Whether or not there is a cause and effect, let's be thankful for the need for less activity of the Crime Watch Network.

P.S. If you are part of the Crime Watch Telephone Network, be sure that you were called about the Schragger incident. If you were not called, please call the person above you on the network and tactfully ask why.

ADOPT-A-LOT

The Hiltonia Association would like to receive Firm Fixed Price Bids on the maintenance (grass cutting) of the city owned lot at the corner of Stanley Avenue and Cadwalader Drive.

The cutting will be on a request basis and your bid should be based on a unit (per grass cutting) cost. All bids should be received by Ray Castro (1 Cornwall Avenue) no later than JUNE 15, 1981. If you have any questions, contact Ray at 396-3916.

Friends of Cadwalader Park

Besides their projected landscaping/beautification which will start around June 1st, the ponds are a thriving waterfowl haven. Mother Goose hatched four goslings on the island in mid-May and on Sunday, May 17, Mother Duck paraded her brood of seven across Cadwalader Drive to the water, from their nest in Al and Joyce Barrett's front yard! All day Sunday, they fascinated a steady stream of onlookers, from toddlers to senior citizens, with their pond worthiness.

A productive Project Halfday on May 9, with teamwork and industry making up for a modest turnout. Results: a near-dozen overgrown forsythia lovingly thinned and shaped, and 100 feet of path restored on the upper side of the ponds - scarified, weeded, raked and graded, with a new gravel topping. Hiltonians were outnumbered by Friends from other areas, but there will be future opportunities.

A word of appreciation and commendation to Loren Lybarger whose Eagle Scout service project started on Project Halfday and consisted of rebuilding another section of path along the lower pond. With Friends like this, your Park is looking better all the time . . .

EDITORIAL - Water Crazy

Not only did we have to contend with a drought, we also have to contend with the Trenton Water Works. As you are all aware, we have received water bills for the first time this year. The last meter reading occurred on February 26 which means that our meters should be read on or about May 26. On a phone call (May 21) to the City Meter Reading Department, it was learned that the meters are not scheduled to be read -- they are busy working in Hamilton.

We should be concerned about Trenton's inability to read meters and bill us, since we seem to be hit with constant rate hikes. The more money they collect the slower they are becoming. This has to be costly to us. Where is the money coming from to pay the Water Works' bills? Is it coming from our property tax? Why was the meter read on February 26, yet the bill didn't arrive until May 18?

Mr. James Vroonland, a neighbor of ours has recently resigned his job as Finance Director with the Holland Administration. Mr. William Guhl has replaced him. Write or call Mr. Guhl about this problem. Do you want $100 worth of water bills in December?
